

Explore First Nations Studies at Western University

Fanshawe College – Western University Articulation Agreement

The Fanshawe-Western First Nations Studies Articulation Agreement was developed to define pathways for students in the General Arts and Science – First Nations Studies Major at Fanshawe College to the First Nations Studies Major or Honors Specialization at Western University.

First Nations Studies at Western is an interdisciplinary program of study, examining topics relevant to Indigenous peoples' realities. The program allows students to focus on Indigenous issues or to combine their program with another area of interest. For more information visit: firstnationsstudies.uwo.ca

Admission Requirements

- » Two-year General Arts & Science Diploma – First Nations Studies Major at Fanshawe College
- » Minimum GPA of 3.0 (B)
- » No more than five years since conferral of diploma at Fanshawe and admission to Western. Exceptions considered on an individual basis.

Transfer Credit

- » Applicants may receive up to 5.0 transfer credits (equivalent to one full year)
- » A minimum grade of “C” or 60% in each course approved by Western for transfer credit
- » Fanshawe courses eligible for consideration for transfer credit are:
 - a. 7000 level courses in English, First Nations Studies, Sociology, Philosophy, Psychology, Women's Studies and History of Western Art
 - b. Fanshawe College ABST 3002/3003. Transferred as a generic second year level First Nations Studies course worth 1.0 credit.
 - c. Other courses constituting the First Nations Studies Major at Fanshawe may also be considered for transfer credit.

To learn more about this Articulation Agreement contact:

Aboriginal Outreach and Transitions Advisor:
d_kennedy2@fanshawec.ca

Fanshawe's First Nations Centre:
fanshawec.ca/fnc

INDIGENOUS SERVICES
Western University

Indigenous Admissions Coordinator:
is.access@uwo.ca

Western Indigenous Services:
indigenous.uwo.ca